Explore and Debate:

Risks and Pressures

How do the pressures we place upon ourselves and others influence our behaviour?

Project Outcomes:

Temples, Tombs and Treasures is an exciting topic in which the year four children explore the concept of risks and pressures through the lives of people in Ancient Egypt. They discuss and judge the hierarchical system in Ancient Egyptian times and examine their thoughts and opinions linked to how governing system and people’s rights differed in those times compared with today. Throughout the unit the concept of risks and pressures is explored in their own lives, considering and evaluating the impact of the pressure we place on ourselves and others and how it can be used to bring about both positive and negative outcomes.

Spiritual Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• We give our opinions, based on our beliefs and principles, about events that took place in history, learning lessons from them and applying them to our futures.• We are able to think from different people’s perspective, showing empathy with characters.
Moral Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• We explore the concept of ‘right and wrong’ and how we behave, taking account of the pressures placed on us in society.• We are aware of the consequences of our and others actions.• We are confident to express our opinions about moral dilemmas, considering the lessons we can learn from the past.
Social Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• We learn from the past about the differing socio-economic groups and their impact on society.• We understand how societies are structured and the importance of the structure to enable the countries to run successfully.
Cultural Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• We appreciate and celebrate the impact The Ancient Egyptians have on society today and the achievements that they made.• We understand the significance of rituals, celebrations and festivals of people in other cultures and other times.
