

Weekly Learning Reflections

Week Beginning:

Happy Friday 😊

Let's jump straight in!

This week has been a very practical and creative learning week. From creating our very own hand in science - to demonstrate how muscle contractions cause our skeletons to move - to working in groups and writing lyrics for our ballads. In Geography, we continued our learning of Antarctica and explored the human features of the continent (and yes, the continent song was sung 5 times more). We then role played as reporters and wrote postcards to send back to our families, explaining what our working conditions were like and the daily activities we would get up to.

Today, the children very much enjoyed their computing lesson as we learnt how to touch type. As I think the children rather enjoyed this part of the lesson, I have included a link for them to play at home – so that they can practise and build on their skills even more!

Maths saw us complete our 'Big Problem' where the children had to use all of their skills learnt over the past week to help them compare sporting results. The children have worked super hard this week in maths and are becoming increasingly confident in applying their new skills in Maths Application Time. Keep up the hard work Astute!

Yesterday, the children were thrilled to have been introduced to their new year 6 buddy. Year 6 were also excited to meet them and share their knowledge and experience of our school while also forming wonderful friendships.

Now, for stars of the week!

Teacher star of the week goes to Ruby C for her perseverance. Ruby works incredibly hard in all subjects, pushing herself and persevering even when faced with tricky problems. Well done Ruby!

Class star of the week goes to Noa for consistently communicating respectfully with her peers and adults. Noa makes the rest of class Astute feel safe and though they are able to ask her anything. What a wonderful part of her personality. Well done Noa!

Have a wonderful weekend 😊
