

Weekly Learning Reflections

Week Beginning: 30 September 2024

It was lovely to meet so many of you at parents evening over the past couple of days, I hope you found the meetings useful and informative. Once again, the children have continued to impress me this week. I have challenged them to be more evaluative in their learning and reflect on the work they are producing in order to be the best they can.

The children have written their diaries this week, working hard to include emotions and thoughts in their entries. Before writing, we role played the scene from the Jungle Book to help the children get into character and support their understanding of the different emotions Mowgli would have experienced. It has been great to see them applying their learning and practising using the skills we have looked at in English.

This week, we finished our number and place value learning with the children completing the Big Problem at the end of the week. They had to use all their learning from the past three weeks in order to complete the launch tasks and find the launch code in order to launch a rocket.

Our still life drawings are coming along nicely in Art, with the children working hard to develop tints and shades to add colour to their pieces. Turning to Science, the children investigated what firmness of toothbrush is best by using them to clean whiteboards and comparing the time it took before adapting and transposing their motifs in Music. It has been another great week, full of enthusiasm and determination from the children!

★ ★ ★ STARS OF THE WEEK ★ ★ ★

Pupil Star of the Week - ★ Eliza ★

Eliza has had a brilliant week and has been recognised for the class for her hard work. The children were asked to focus on someone who evaluates their learning and attitude and determined that Eliza consistently shows a desire to improve and challenge herself to be the best. You've had a great week Eliza, well done!

Teacher Star of the Week - ★ Holly ★

Holly has shown great challenge and determination this week. She has listened to the advice given to her and tried to apply it to her learning in order to improve. Holly has regularly sought ways of improving her work and has evaluated effectively in order to improve in her learning. You've had a fantastic week Holly, keep up the super work!
