

Weekly Learning Reflections

Week Beginning: 4.2.24

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Mythical gods with superpowers would have had mortals recoiling from the overhead rolling thunder, roiling seas and earth-shaking quakes and tsunamis.

During an RE Day the children explored the features of myths, before exploring how beliefs are the bedrock of religious myths. Then it was their turn to story board and create their myths to answer life's mysteries. The children's creativity was stunning, and their storyboards were striking.

Science

There was a heavy concerted sigh of controlled sign on learning the water in their drinking bottle may have passed through a Tyrannosaur Rex. The children were learning about the water cycle. Every child was riveted by the fact that the sky is an ocean of water travelling in the form of vapour. Using their previous science knowledge, they learned how water has been changing from a liquid into a gaseous cloud before falling either as rain, or solid hail or snow since time itself.

Maths

Division using the 'bus stop' method has been left waiting till now. So far, the children have divided using their times tables and number lines. This week they were introduced to long division using the 'bus stop method' using counters. They explored the importance of remainder and how to use number properties to know what the remainder will be. The children have embraced their learning with positivity and a 'can-do' attitude.

French

J'aime... and je n'aime pas...This was week the week the children weaved their previous learning of clothes to express their like and dislike of clothing. The children have been learning grammar to be able to write sentences about clothing.

Children's Star of the Week

The votes were very close this week. For the boys Zakai was selected for being kind and helpful. For the girls, Savannah was chosen for being brilliant, helpful friend.

Teacher Star of the Week

This week Miss Poole chose the stars of the week. Alex and Ella for being fantastic leaners and friends.

I hope you have a super weekend with your child and loved ones.

Kind regards,

Amarjit
