

Weekly Learning Reflections

Week Beginning: 28 February 2025

Welcome back, I hope you all enjoyed the half-term! It has been a great first week back in Victory class with the children hitting the ground running and working hard to start the half-term off on a positive note.

Our English has taken us on a journey into the world of poetry, exploring how to perform to engage the audience before exploring different types of poems and evaluating them based on the language and word choice they use.

In Maths, we have begun to look at fractions and have been practising how to count on and back in fractions before using bar models and number lines to add and subtract fractions accurately. I have been impressed with the children's understanding so far.

Across the curriculum, we have started discovering more about food and where it comes from through our Geography. We have also looked into how computers 'think' and practised some of the key skills they use. As well as this, the classroom has been filled with noise as the children investigated how different instruments make sound and how it travels to become what we hear.

★ ★ ★ STARS OF THE WEEK ★ ★ ★

Pupil Star of the Week - ★ Noa ★

Noa was chosen as the Class Star for the first week back! The children were asked to focus on someone who has shown good perseverance and challenge in their learning and Noa has shown this in abundance. Her eager attitude and positive enthusiasm for always learning more has shone through and she has had a fantastic week as a result. Well done Noa, you've had a brilliant week!

Teacher Star of the Week - ★ Hudson ★

My Star of the Week this week is Hudson! I have chosen Hudson because he has worked incredibly hard this week, pushing himself to complete his learning in a detailed manner and going above and beyond his learning. Hudson has challenged himself to complete work in great detail and sought out ways he can enhance his learning across the curriculum. Well done Hudson, you've set an excellent example and had a great week!
